

Terri Ingram currently lives in McDonough with her husband, Darrell, and 4 children. She has been a home-schooling mom for the past 9 years while teaching private piano and French Horn.

Mrs. Ingram grew-up in Maryland with her family, spending her summers studying at the Tidewater Music Festival, The Hartford School of Music, Tanglewood Institute, and the International Horn Society Workshops. Terri attended Boston University School of Fine Arts in 1988-1989 as her first year towards a Bachelors Performance Degree on the French Horn, she completed her studies at The Catholic University of America.

A high-light in Mrs. Ingram's career was at Tanglewood in the Listening and Analysis Program she was able to study in an intimate setting under Leonard Bernstein and the Boston Symphony. The greatest high-light in her personal life would be when she was led by her husband in 1995 to a personal relationship with Jesus Christ as her personal Lord and Savior.
